The expansion of Western Europe provided a social, economic, and political challenge to other nation-states and the ways that this expansion was either adapted to or challenged (by both sides) continue to reflect in our world today. By examining European interaction with China, South Asia, and the Middle East, we can explore colonialism/imperialism on the part of the “West,” how these areas dealt with decolonization, and its continued effect on the twentieth century.

“Antisemitism,” strictly speaking, is a modern phenomenon: the word itself dating to the nineteenth century. Yet it is obvious that hostility to Jews has existed for centuries. Is it possible, then, or fruitful, to distinguish between different historical stages of anti-Jewish animus? Examining the twentieth century as the stage on which such horrific tragedies as the Holocaust unfolded, let’s delve into a historical analysis of the development of antisemitism in Western civilization. Whatever our conclusions about a typology of Judeaeophobia and antisemitism, one thing is certain: the curtain has yet to fall on the sorry spectacle of xenophobia and demonizing “the other.”
MATH 110 Calculus I
One of the great mathematical advances of all time, calculus has broad applicability across disciplines. This introductory calculus class covers the theory and techniques of differentiation and integration of algebraic and trigonometric functions. Topics will include limits, optimization, curve sketching, and calculation of areas.

NSLI 230-L40 Nonprofit Communications
Caroline Graves
CRN 21975 WEB
Communications with the general public, governments, other nonprofits, business, media, funders and donors in order to build intentional relationships are explored. Theory and practice are integrated in examining relationships and accountabilities. New perspectives on social media, virtual/public presence, branding, key messages, and time-sensitive response mechanisms are discussed.

NSLI 340-L70 Nonprofit Program Planning
Jose Sousa
CRN 22133 WEB
Effective program planning and evaluation based on understanding the shifting external environment in which staff and volunteers operate, as well as their internal environment. Includes mixed methods research; external environment trend analyses and projections; internal organization database management and analytic strategies; program evaluation and decision-making models; and special projects management.

NSLI 350-L01 Nonprofit Finance & Philanthropy
Kathleen Wilde
CRN 21976 MW 1800-2045
Introduction to financial monitoring systems, roles in nonprofit organizations, creating and monitoring annual budgets, internal and external reports and procedures, cost accounting methods, long range financial planning, and building capacity for innovation.
PHIL 150 Critical Thinking

Critical thinking is the study of how to distinguish good reasoning from bad, correct thinking from incorrect. It’s a little like grammar: we use it all the time, usually without thinking about it. But like grammar, critical thinking involves universal rules that you may not be familiar with. Studying these rules will help you to use them more effectively, and so to become a better thinker.

STAT 100-C40 Elementary Statistics for Applications
Vijayaparvathy Agasthian
CRN 22008 MTWR 1100-1215

An introduction to statistical methods including: descriptive statistics, probability, the normal distribution, and basic techniques of statistical inference (confidence intervals and hypothesis tests for population means and proportions, one-way analysis of variance), as well as simple linear regression.

STAT 200-C70 Intermediate Statistics for Applications
Vijayaparvathy Agasthian
CRN 22157 MTWR 1230-1345

A continuation of STAT 100; inference for two categorical variables; basic multiple linear regression; two-way analysis of variance; introduction to nonparametric methods; statistical process control; introduction to survey design.
HOW TO REGISTER

01

Locate your time ticket in UR Self-Service

A time ticket is your day and time to register based on the number of credit hours you have successfully completed.

02

Book an academic advising time at your college

Visit your college registrars a couple days before your time ticket for advice and help creating your schedule.

03

Register either via UR Self-Service or with your registrar

If you’re okay entering your choices into UR Self-Service yourself, go ahead! If not, leave it with us and we will get you registered.
