The expansion of Western Europe provided a social, economic, and political challenge to other nation-states and the ways that this expansion was either adapted to or challenged (by both sides) continue to reflect in our world today. By examining European interaction with China, South Asia, and the Middle East, we can explore colonialism/imperialism on the part of the “West,” how these areas dealt with decolonization, and its continued effect on the twentieth century.

“Antisemitism,” strictly speaking, is a modern phenomenon: the word itself dating to the nineteenth century. Yet it is obvious that hostility to Jews has existed for centuries. Is it possible, then, or fruitful, to distinguish between different historical stages of anti-Jewish animus? Examining the twentieth century as the stage on which such horrific tragedies as the Holocaust unfolded, let’s delve into a historical analysis of the development of antisemitism in Western civilization. Whatever our conclusions about a typology of Judeaeophobia and antisemitism, one thing is certain: the curtain has yet to fall on the sorry spectacle of xenophobia and demonizing “the other.”
Critical thinking is the study of how to distinguish good reasoning from bad, correct thinking from incorrect. It’s a little like grammar: we use it all the time, usually without thinking about it. But like grammar, critical thinking involves universal rules that you may not be familiar with. Studying these rules will help you to use them more effectively, and so to become a better thinker.

HOW TO REGISTER

01
Locate your time ticket in UR Self-Service
A time ticket is your day and time to register based on the number of credit hours you have successfully completed.

02
Book an academic advising time at your college
Visit your college registrars a couple days before your time ticket for advice and help creating your schedule.

03
Register either via UR Self-Service or with your registrar
If you’re okay entering your choices into UR Self-Service yourself, go ahead! If not, leave it with us and we will get you registered.
